

Not So Basic Team Building Adventures!

With an ever-increasing competitive business environment, leaders are recognizing the need to align and bring together executive teams, managers and supervisors, departments, and co-workers. Increased pressures of individual expectations, tighter deadlines and staff relations can easily slip from cooperation to competition or even confrontation, which will result in bottom line loss of profit.

Not So Basic Team Adventures feature strategic, engaging and valuable learning activities designed to build mutual trust, team work and group confidence. Groups will:

- Develop and reach goals in unison
- Master problem-solving skills that are linked back to their work environments
- Leave with a new understanding of how powerful and effective the team can be in working toward a common goal

Not So Basic Training will partner with you to custom design a program tailor fit to ensure your team reaches and realizes their full potential. The scope of our involvement can range from developing and facilitating the event while you utilize internal sources for the logistics to arranging for the food, accommodations, supplies/gear, travel, etc. along with developing and facilitating the event

Below you will find the range of programs we can offer:

- Experiential Team Challenges Local* 4-6 hours $3,000 - $5,000
